School Bond Referendum Dumped: Vote 785 to 633

Antioch Community High School District residents last Saturday turned down a $2.6 million bond issue for a building program by 152 votes.

The total return showed that the issue went down to defeat by a count of 785 to 633. There were eleven spoiled ballots.

The proposal, returns showed, only carried in one precinct. That was the B. J. Hooper Grade School where the tally was 91 to 78.

The no vote won out at the high school by a vote of 467 to 117. The total vote was 1,429.

Board officials had asked for the referendum because of needed improvements to maintain a high quality of education in the system.

The bonds would have provided 18 additional classrooms in addition to remodeling of what had been termed outmoded facilities which had been built in 1915, 1927 and 1952.

Supt. Albert Dittman said the board would examine the results of the balloting and would then determine what action would have to be taken.

"I haven't as yet had an opportunity to examine the poll books," Dittman said, "but I don't think we had enough of the parents out to vote whose children are in the seventh to 12th grades."

"You have to have these parents, who really know the need, to counteract the dissenting vote."

The referendum, called for a school tax rate of $20.25 on a home assessed at $10,000.

This would have brought the rate to $1.6775 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

Antioch High School, which has one of the longest school days of any in the county with classes starting at 7:45 a.m. and ending at 3:40 p.m., has been having some classes meeting in the auditorium due to overcrowded conditions.

School officials said the district's enrollment is expected to jump from the present 1,064 to an estimated 1,414 students by the 1975-76 school year.

The building program would have provided for an enrollment of 1,600.

The addition would have provided extra classrooms for English, social studies, mathematics, business education, choir, and a boys' gymnasium and lockers.

There would also have been space provided under the new program for driver and safety education, health, art and speech rooms, a library resource center, a student study area, cafeteria, administration and related facilities, faculty lounge and faculty offices and work rooms.

Total Snow This Season: 28.7"

Remarks: The high temperatures took a little dip the early part of the week but our overnight lows came up to make the average stay about the same, 40.8°F.

Tuesday night the fishermen could have picked themselves some thin but plentiful free night crawlers.

Those 74 consecutive days with 2" or more of snow ended on 3-28-60. This date was omitted last week.

If I had put more stock in Dr. Solar and the "Mushroom mild winter prediction" I wouldn't have to pick up the tab on a couple of stock dinners this weekend. I thought I was "in" like a burglar when we had 3" of snow in October, but from there on the precipitation came mainly in the wrong form. "Doc" you were "So right" and I was "So Wrong."

It looks like they (Army Engineers) have put a board or two in the McHenry Dam, the water has started to come up in the Chain O-Lakes.

By the way, the crawlers are out tonight being serenaded by the tree frogs, first time I have heard them this year.

The "NASA Story" At Chicago Museum

The "NASA Story," the first of a newly designed series of exhibits explaining the nation's space program, is now on display at the Museum of Science and Industry and will continue through Labor Day.

Highlighting the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's accomplishments and the people engaged in the space program, this exhibit is in the form of a near circular theatre.

In it are presented pictures and narration explaining such subjects as the Apollo mission, aeronautical research and interplanetary exploration. Other subjects include communications, moon photographs, an x-15 flight and astronauts on actual missions.

Popcorn & Koolade Popular In Vietnam

Letters from two evacuation hospitals in South Vietnam have been received by Project Vietnam.

Ouida R. Mire, Chief, Nursing Service of the 67th Evacuation Hospital writes:

"It is a privilege and a pleasure to extend the 'Thank you' of the patients of the 67th Evacuation Hospital for your continued thoughtfulness expressed through your 'care' packages."

"With the dry season starting, the drink mixes will be quickly used. The patients, like you at home, enjoy fixing popcorn and eating it while listening to the radio or watching T.V. T.V. is available a limited number of hours daily and the patients do gather round to view the current offerings. Plastic bags have multiple uses in this climate, not the least of which is protecting their small tape recorders from the constant dust. Many send tape letters to their families."

"All in all your selections have been admirably suited to the soldiers' needs and they are appreciative. May God reward your kindness and constancy."

Major Violet P. Spencer, Assistant Chief Nurse of the 65th Evacuation Hospital, writes as follows:

"We received another gift box today, containing Kool Aid, popcorn, combs, toothbrushes, ballpoint pens, playing cards, soap and soup. All of these items are needed and we're delighted that you thought of us."

"With the extremely hot, humid weather, Kool-Aid is a blessing. The patients love the popcorn and we have one popcorn popper which is a real morale booster when popcorn is available."

"The Lipton's soup is given to our boys who have 'facial maxillary' injuries. They are on a liquid diet for several weeks, and this soup is both nourishing and tasty."

"We never have enough combs, toothbrushes, soap and playing cards. Every time we open another box, it seems like Christmas."

"We delight in giving our soldiers the finest care available. Your contributions make our job a little easier."

"We sincerely appreciate your support in our mission over here. Thank everyone from all of us." Project Vietnam will prepare the April mailing with the help of Antioch High School students and faculty members on Wednesday, April 3 in Room 102 at 7 p.m.

Township Government Detailed For Citizenry

Tuesday, April 2, 1968, is Town Meeting Day—and might very well be called Democracy Day. In Antioch the meeting is set for 2 p.m. in the Township Office.

Town Meeting Day takes place in most Illinois communities, wherever township government is in operation. This meeting is called by the township administration, to have township electors vote upon budgets and programs as planned by the township for the forthcoming fiscal year.

This town meeting exemplifies democracy in action as it exists nowhere else in the world.

In 85 counties within Illinois, and in 21 other states in the U. S., totally representing about 60 per cent of the nation's population, township government continues to serve as a vital form of true democracy.

All other governmental units in this country are conducted on an electorate-representation basis. The people do not have a direct voice in governmental decisions, as they do in township government.

Why are town meetings held? What happens at them? Why should you attend your town meeting? What do you do there? Preceding the annual town meeting, and throughout the year, township government is administered by the town board. The head of the town board is the supervisor, who, along with the town clerk and three auditors make up this administrative body.

The township fiscal year begins on the last Tuesday of March (this year, March 26.) By this date, programs and budgets for the new year have been formulated and approved by the board.

One week later (the first Tuesday of April), the annual town meeting is called. This is a historic procedure in township government, dating back to its origin in the early 1600's.

The township electorate is publicly notified of and invited to this meeting, through announcements in local newspapers. Then the programs and budgets, as approved by the town board, are introduced to the attending electorate and are submitted for their approval.

Township citizens in attendance virtually become the town legislature, through their power of direct voting on proposals. Although no legislation as such is introduced at the meeting, proposals can be made which may modify any of those submitted. Also, proposals for future consideration can be made, which subsequently may be passed upon at a special town meeting that can be called, or at the next annual meeting. A special meeting may be requested by 15 or more voters, or by the town board, whenever such a meeting may be needed.

The first order of business is the supervisor's annual financial report, and reports from other elected officials, particularly the highway commissioner.

Then the new year's budget ordinance is presented, and submitted for approval by a majority of voters present. Amendments in the budget may be made and voted upon. Approving or amending the budget, of course, affects the lifeblood of the township administration, and determines what the administration can or cannot do during the forthcoming year.

This is quite a responsibility given to the attending electorate, and should be so treated by them. This may have serious bearing on major township projects. For example, if a township wished to set up a special board or commission,

Anti-War, Black Power Groups Meet

Two Lake Villa area YMCA camps were used as a meeting place last weekend for black power and anti-war extremists, it has been disclosed.

The meetings, sponsored by the National Mobilization Unit, reportedly discussed plans to disrupt the Democratic National Convention set for August 26 in Chicago.

This group organized massive anti-war protests at the Pentagon last October.

The two groups met in the Ravenswood, east and west camps, Rte. 132 near Deep Lake Road. Lake Villa Supervisor Ronald Coles said he had no advance notice of the meetings and said that the groups "are not the type that usually use the camps."

Coles said he was looking into the matter with an eye toward finding out why they picked on these two area camps for their meetings.

Marvin Erdal, director of the Ravenswood camps, said the groups went through proper channels in renting the camps but that he had no knowledge of what they were going to talk about.

Erdal said they obeyed all the rules and no trouble was caused.

County Board Collects $271,963 In Pay In '67

Members of the Lake County Board of Supervisors, during the years 1967, received $271,963 from the coffers of the county and townships.

A total of $136,763 came from the county for the 37 members of the board.

And a total of $135,200 came from the townships for the 18 supervisors.

A breakdown on the county figure shows that $25,822 was paid to members of the liquor commission; $7,875 to one member of the board of review; $85,222 for meetings of the board (including committee meetings and mileage); and $17,540 for meetings of the forest preserve (including committee meetings and mileage).

Antioch Township Supervisor and Board Chairman Lloyd E. (Red) Murrie was the top money earner on the board during 1967 with a total of $22,370.

This included $7,000 for his township post, $14,900 as liquor commissioner, $380 for board meetings and $90 for forest preserve meetings.

Second and third top money-makers were veteran Cuba Township Supervisor Joseph P. Welch and Libertyville Township Supervisor Guy Grinnell.

Welch received $11,800 for his township post, $7,875 as chairman of the Lake County Board of Review, $1,319 for board meetings and $90 for forest preserve meetings, for a total of $21,084.

Grinnell received a total of $17,124 which includes $10,000 for his township post, $3,540 for board and committee meetings, $2,871 as member of the liquor commission, and $713 for forest preserve meetings.

Two other members of the liquor commission ended up in the fourth and fifth spots. They are Wauconda Township Supervisor Robert J. Dickson and Benton Township Supervisor Kenneth Henke.

Dickson received a township salary of $8,400, $4,272 for county board and committee meetings, $3,207 from the liquor commission and $415 for forest preserve meetings.

Henke received $8,500 from his township post, $3,084 from county board and committee meetings, $2,514 from the liquor commission, and $604 from forest preserve meetings.

It must be pointed out that the Murrie's salary as liquor commissioner is the only way—by state statute—that a county board chairman can be paid.

Other supervisors and their total amounts included:

Frank Valenta, Grant, $13,280; August Cepon, Waukegan, $13,182; Ron Coles, Lake Villa, $11,939; Harry Knigge, Elia, $11,635; Robert Depke, Warren, $11,513; Frank B. Peers, Deerfield, $10,962; Clarence Pontius, Vernon, $10,081; LeRoy Fritz, Newport, $10,041.

Alex Brebner, Shields, $10,002; Norman Geary, Avon, $9,914; Ernest Mintern, Zion, $8,016; Bruce Frost, West Deerfield, $6,795; and Mrs. Lillian Wirtz, Fremont, $6,642.

The 17 assistant supervisors, together, received a total of $38,067 for board and committee meetings and a total of $8,018 for forest preserve and committee meetings.

The board employed Roy Sundquist as a counselor in the guidance department. Sundquist is working on his master's degree of Northern Illinois University in guidance and counseling.

Prior to July 1, 1968, adults who reside in the Antioch district are now eligible to make application to attend a Junior College. Chris Shute of Antioch, made a request and the board approved it.

The board approved the 1968-1969 school calendar. School will open on September 3 and close

June 6, 1969. The board voted to extend the Spring vacation two days. School will be dismissed Tuesday, April 9, and students will return to classes on Tuesday, April 16. The board also voted to include May 31 as a vacation day for the Memorial Day weekend.

The board discussed curriculum improvement for 1968-69 and approved the following: a semester of Journalism at the Junior-Senior level; a cooperative work training program, which is a part of the Industrial Arts Department. Students go to area vocational centers in Waukegan and attend school part time and experience work training part time.

The board approved the introduction of a semester of marketing, dealing with retailing. This course will be introduced this fall and is a prerequisite course to getting involved in a distributive educational program. This will be a work experience program.

The board approved payment of the membership fee to "Sedol" (Special Education Division of Lake County.) The fee is $1.00 per student and the amount of the payment came to $1061.

The annual elementary board member dinner will be Wednesday, April 24 at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. This dinner is for members of all the grade school boards in the high school district. Guest speaker will be Guy Coriwell, who is Assistant Director of the Illinois Association of school boards. Attend Meeting

Government by the people will be shown off to its greatest advantage next Tuesday when the Antioch Town Meeting is held.

For it is at this grass roots level that the people really have a voice.

On other levels of government we select someone to speak for us in matters having to do with looking out for our interests.

But on the township level we have the opportunity to look out for our own interests — to speak out if we are not satisfied — and to change things around to suit us.

The only trouble is that today's society has one great fault — apathy.

Too many times we grouse because things haven't turned out the way that we wanted them to be — merely because we took no interest whatsoever in the matter in the first place.

We are too prone to put the blame on our officials — but we put them there.

Our favorite motto, it seems, is let John do it and if John doesn't do it then it doesn't get done.

Officials can't chair town meetings. The chairman must be put in by the people.

Too often, it seems, there are hardly enough people at the town meetings to even find someone who wants to be chairman.

The opportunity is here for you — as a citizen of the town community — to express an opinion on how you want your government run.

Don't waste the opportunity.

Attend the town meeting next Tuesday.

War On Crime

Ask any police officer and he will tell you that crime — of all sorts — is on the increase.

Ask him what can be done about it and he will tell you that the greatest lack is cooperation of the citizen "who doesn't want to get involved."

Recently the President of the United States asked the National Council on Crime and Delinquency to spearhead a vast citizen action program to fight crime.

In Illinois, community leaders are banding together to become a vital force in the greatest and most comprehensive fight against crime ever undertaken.

Robert Stuart, president of the National Can Corporation has taken on the chairmanship of an Illinois Conference on "Citizen Leadership and Action to Control Crime and Delinquency."

The conference will be held May 23rd in Chicago and letters have gone out to top business and industry leaders to carry out the drive.

We hope that from this conference will come the necessary impetus that will carry to the citizenry the conviction that only through their involvement can the crime rate rise be halted.

We feel that this is a splendid and needed move on the part of the leaders in the state.

We give it our wholehearted support.

The pull-out of New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller from the Presidential race last week left a lot of Rocky rooters with egg on their faces and no place to go.

It also raises the question of the responsibility a political leader assumes when he is projected into the presidential campaign either by circumstances or by his own design.

A combination of forces including personality, public exposure, previous service and experience and some indefinable alchemy every four years brings to the political surface a small handful of men out of the millions of people in America who are deemed by at least some of their peers to be worthy of the Presidency.

It seems that when this occurs a potential candidate takes on a responsibility to actively seek the nomination of his party until every hope of his making it is dead.

Such was the circumstance of the withdrawal of Gov. George Romney who had carried the banner of the liberal Republicans until it became apparent his campaign was not getting off the ground.

This has not been the case with Gov. Rockefeller, however, since he had been considered a candidate despite protestations to the contrary.

There are many Republicans who still feel that Rockefeller will be available on a draft at the convention, but many more seem to feel that if he isn't willing to fight for the nomination he does not deserve it and they are willing to take him at his word that he is no longer interested in the nomination.

This would seem to leave the Republicans without a liberal spokesman although Rockefeller has said he will condescend to speak out in party councils.

It is probably too late to mount another campaign, but don't be surprised if New York Mayor John Lindsay is suddenly catapulted into discussion about Presidential candidates.

Despite the ever more extensive use of television as a statewide

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

Expediency may be substituted for legislative deliberation in the final enactment of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. As one who has been a long time proponent of the meaningful civil rights legislation, the prospect of blanket acceptance of the Senate bill is sad to contemplate.

The Senate version—which the House is being urged to swallow "hook, line and sinker"—adds a myriad of sections to three measures passed previously by the House.

Three main parts of the pending bill have been previously considered by the House of Representatives. These are: (a) the Federal Anti-Riot Act, (b) a measure to protect civil rights workers in promoting voting and other civil rights and (c) an open housing section. A bill containing open housing provisions received House approval almost two years ago. The anti-riot and civil rights protection measures were embodied in separate House bills passed last year.

A variety of amendments—many of them unrelated to the main issues—were tacked onto the Anti-Riot bill in the Senate. Indeed, the demand to provide Federal legislation against riots in the streets of America has been the principal impetus to the whole civil rights package now pending before the Rules Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives. Nevertheless, the main controversy now centers about the so-called "open housing" provisions which differ markedly from the House-passed version of two years ago.

In 1966, the House of Representatives gave overwhelming support to open housing legislation which would affect new housing developments and cover many multiple housing units where the need of tenants to be accepted without discrimination is most acute. The majority of family owner-occupied dwellings were exempted, consistent with the principle that an individual home owner should be free to select the purchaser or tenant of his home with or without any valid reason. However, the House decided that this right of a home-owner should not justify arbitrary discriminatory practices by real estate dealers.

The present Senate concept seems to engage in some fanciful and confusing semantics—which would permit an individual homeowner to discriminate on the basis of race or color in the sale or rental of his property provided he engages in such conduct not more campaign tool, many candidates still believe in the wisdom of barnstorming the state in order to meet the voters face to face and shake their hands.

Consequently it is important that they know well in advance when important rallies are being staged so they can fit in as many meetings and rallies as possible.

It is an imposition, therefore, for any political club or committee to schedule a rally to which a state candidate is being invited and then do little or nothing to insure a good turnout.

Last week former Gov. William G. Stratton was slated to speak before the Waukegan Township Republican Club. This was one of the better-kept secrets of the current campaign.

Of course the Waukegan Republican Club is a very exclusive group being limited in membership to precinct committeemen, unlike most local groups which welcome everyone who is interested in the GOP.

At any rate the turnout for Gov. Stratton was embarrassing with less than 20 people in the audience. Fortunately, or unfortunately, the candidate was unable to appear so he didn't waste his time to make the meeting.

Apparently polo players roll on forever because it was 20 years ago when we first watched Jack Ryan and Johnny Casey cavorting at Arlington Farms Polo Club near Libertyville and they are still at it.

They leave early in April for a series of games in Hawaii and the portly Ryan, who now operates an oasis for polo players and non-players at Knollwood, insists that he doesn't have to ship the Meister-Brau Westphalians, which haul the brewery's beer wagon, as mounts for the island series.

McClory Urges House To Review Viet Policy

In a statement on the floor of the United States House of Representatives, Congressman Robert McClory (R, Ill.) urged the adoption of a concurrent resolution calling for congressional review of our fundamental policy in Southeast Asia.

On March 18 Mr. McClory joined with 97 other House Republicans and 40 House Democrats in urging review of the outdated Gulf of Tonkin Resolution adopted in August 1964 which is relied upon by President Johnson as his authority for the huge American military operation in Vietnam.

Real estate dealers would enjoy the same type of exemption. Otherwise, the Senate bill appears to affect virtually all types of housing transactions.

The House acted to provide an easy and inexpensive method of enforcing the rights of minorities who might claim that their rights to purchase or rent have been violated because of their race or color. While the Senate-passed bill refers to Administrative action by "conciliation and persuasion", there is no remedy for an aggrieved party except to file a lawsuit in a State or Federal Court.

In addition, a number of other extraneous (albeit desirable) provisions were tacked on to this measure by the Senate i.e., (1) a Bill of Rights for Indians residing on reservations, and extensive procedures affecting Indian tribal courts, (2) a watered-down gun-control section, (3) exemption of labor union activities from the anti-riot law and (4) protection of fire and police personnel while enforcing the law.

The House Judiciary Committee, upon which this Member serves, held extensive hearings in support of provisions embodied in the various House bills now combined in the Senate-passed measure. However, some of the current bill's provisions, such as those affecting Indian tribes, have had no hearings before any House Committees.

Before the House acts upon such substantial changes it would seem important for the House Judiciary Committee to conduct further hearings or—at least—to consider the changes in Executive Session. The minimum action which the House should take would be to refer the entire subject to a Conference composed of House and Senate Members. Under such a procedure (which is the normal practice) the divergent views of the House and the Senate might be resolved to the benefit of the American public whose interests the bill seeks to advance.

erican military operation in Vietnam.

Congressman McClory declared: "It is not necessary to be a hawk or a dove to support adoption of this resolution. It is necessary only to be a responsible Member of the House of Representatives and to recognize our duties and prerogatives as legislators. The President's Vietnam policy is being challenged by several of his democratic rivals who are trying to make political capital out of the divided attitudes of the American people. The appropriate forum in which to debate and to establish Vietnam policy is the Congress of the United States."

The Illinois Republican went on to add that, "It would seem well for the President to support the House Members who are urging hearings by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. This procedure would allow knowledgeable witnesses to be heard and would permit new light to be shed on the issue of U. S. aims, objectives, and alternatives in Southeast Asia."

The chief sponsor of the proposed congressional action is Representative Paul Findley (R, Ill.). Other leading participants in the recent House debate include Congressman Barber B. Conable, Jr., (R, N.Y.), a highly decorated Marine of World War II, and Paul N. McCloskey (R, Cal.), a Marine hero of the Korean War.

mission—a health board, youth commission, senior citizen commission, or the like—the township budget would include an appropriation for such a program. If the voters approved the total budget, they would vote for the proposal involved. A budget amendment could become a "no" vote.

Following acceptance of the budget, the township tax levy for the coming year is proposed. This is another important responsibility. And, where else does the electorate have anything to say about their tax rates?

Then the meeting is opened for "other business," which may involve local improvements, specific proposals for the highway department, or for public assistance. Special projects may be introduced for consideration, and, if needed, a special meeting requested.

Altogether, the electorate has 30 designated powers which they may exert at a town meeting. This truly represents a democratic privilege in this day and age of threatening centralization, bigness and remote control of government!

This is why citizens should know about and appreciate their township government—and attend town meetings.

The least that an individual can do at these meetings is to vote on the operation of the township. Once well enough acquainted with the problems, needs and resources of the township, individuals or groups can play a vital role in township government affairs.

The fact that this democratic process is there to serve the citizenry—and open to service by the citizenry—should be respected and encouraged. This form of government is worth preservation. The greater the interest in and attendance at town meetings, the better such a goal will be accomplished.

ACHS Art Students In Mall Art Fair

Antioch Community High School will participate in the Northwest Suburban Conference Second Annual Art Fair to be held tomorrow (Friday) March 29, and Saturday, March 30, at the Belvedere Mall.

Other schools participating in the exhibition are: Warren, Lake Forest, Grant, Lake Zurich, Grayslake, Wauconda, and Round Lake High Schools.

In addition to the work of the young artists of the visual arts, vocal students and band members from all schools will perform. Antioch's Swing Choir and stage band is scheduled to perform at 2 p.m., Saturday afternoon. Exhibit hours are from 12 noon to 9 p.m. on Friday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Last year the superintendent of the Northwest Suburban Conference schools decided it would be a good idea for the art departments of the various schools to have a joint exhibit and the Belvedere Mall was selected as the location as it would be under cover and well attended. The exhibit was such a success last year, that it might possibly become an annual affair.

Antioch art students will have a fine showing of mosaics done in a variety of media, as well as drawings, paintings and ceramics.

Competition is within each school exhibiting and art teachers will be assigned as judges to schools other than their own. The prizes are blue ribbons for the best of each media and a gold ribbon for the best of the school's total exhibit.

Special Education Program Aids A.C.H.S. Students

The Antioch Community High School has been serving as an attendance center for the Lake County Special Education District Work-Study program since 1963. The program also has the cooperation of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, State of Illinois.

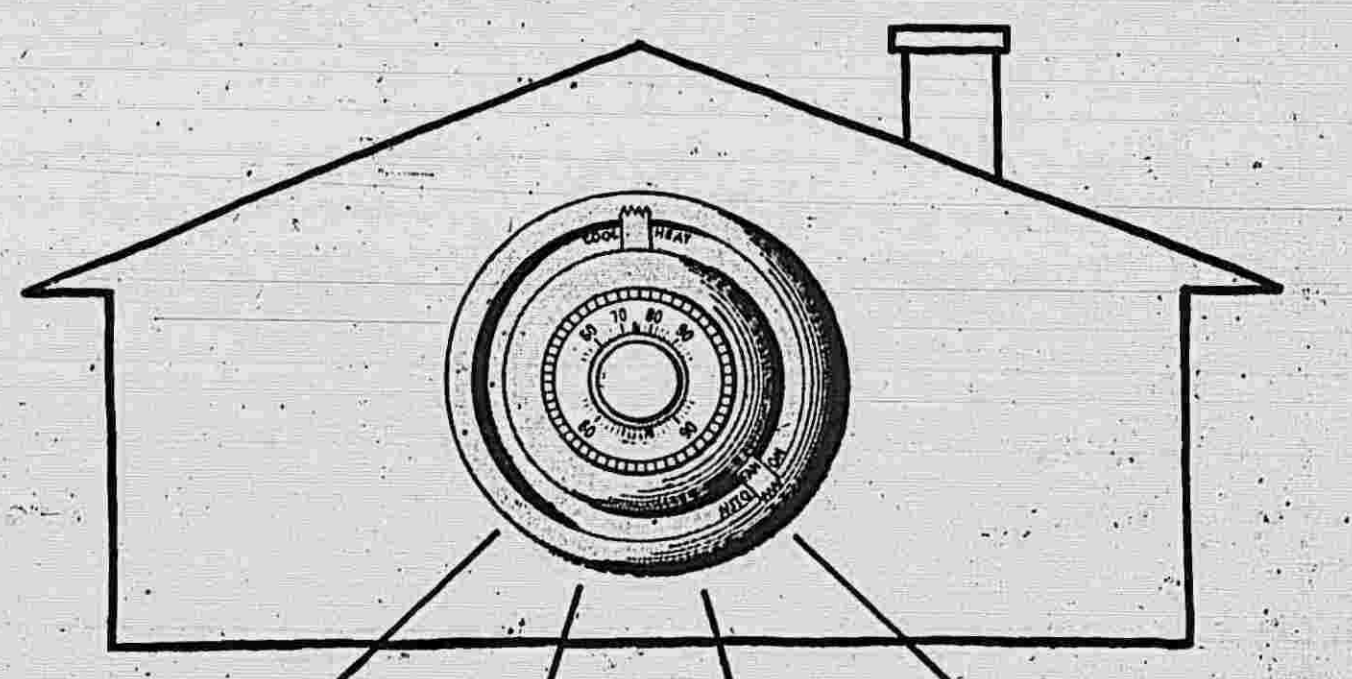

The program basically attempts to train high school youngsters in Special Education skills which will allow them to secure a job and hold it. Recent studies indicate that more young workers lose their jobs because of their inability to get along on the job rather than not being able to do the work. A serious effort is made in class, as well as on the job, to improve these skills.

After graduation, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation assists the students to get specific job training in the field of the student's choice and help in locating a job.

Baseball Season Opens At Zion-Benton Apr. 5

Baseball practice is on at Antioch High School and Coach William Seemann feels that the boys are capable of a 500 or better season.

Sixteen boys have signed up for varsity baseball—seven seniors—all lettermen and nine juniors.

The opening game is Saturday,

April 6, at Zion-Benton at 1 p.m. Coach Seemann said: "I have a fast infield and have two returned infielders, Greg Drije at first and Allen Comstock at third. Drije was all conference first baseman last year and is captain of the baseball team."

"Terry Nickerson, another returnee, will play center field. We hope to improve our hitting, which has been our downfall. Our defense has been adequate," Seemann continued.

"I have two strong pitchers in Mike Wells, a senior, and junior Ralph Zanck. Doing the relief work will be Karl Jennrich and Wilford Wells. Wilford is the only left handed thrower we have. I have one senior catcher, Glen Bocox and two junior catchers, Jim Maier and Jerry Martin."

"The starting lineup for our first game will probably be:

Mike Wells, p.
Glen Bocox, c.
G. Drije, 1st
D. Pleviak, 2nd
J. Carlson, ss
A. Comstock, 3rd
R. Zanck, lf.
Terry Nickerson, cf.

Waukegan Speedway Opens Sat. April 20

When the Waukegan Speedway swings open its gates to the public on Saturday and Sunday nights, April 20 and 21, the most prosperous season in the Speedway's history, if predictions are correct, will begin. The late model stock cars will race in the inaugural program on Saturday night and the roaring modifieds will open the Sunday night schedule one night later.

Much work has already been put into the track over the winter season and the remaining weeks before the first races will see the racetrack maintenance crews working overtime insuring the best possible facilities and convenience for fans and drivers alike on the very first night and for the remainder of the 1968 season.

Last year's opener drew such a large crowd that many had to be turned away for lack of parking space for the cars. This year much work has been devoted to enlarging the parking lot, somewhat and resurfacing the entrance road from Washington street. Among the other improvements is the enlargement of the pit area for the hobby stock racers. Additional seating has been added along the homestretch side of the track, also.

The Waukegan Speedway information line will be in operation April 8 at 862-8200. This 24-hour service gives the race schedule for the coming weekend and also carries the latest trackside weather information in the cases of threatening weather.

A large field of late models is expected for the April 20 races and throughout the season. Competition in 1967 was closer than ever before. All of the contenders for last year's honors and many new entries indicated to the management their intentions of entering the opening races when the Lake County Racing organization met March 3. Jim Cossman, reigning champion will defend his title in a new Chevelle.

The modified stock car division which races every Sunday night at Waukegan has had the highest enthusiasm ever in an off-season over this past winter. Many new cars have been built and others purchased from near and far. The owners and drivers of these highly powered hot rods have promised the management even larger fields for the '68 season. Whitey Harris will be ready April 21 to defend his first Waukegan driving crown.

Hobby stock racing was a smashing success in the past year and will be back to join every racing program at the Speedway this season. There were 42 winners in the hobby division last year as well over 100 drivers entered the competition over the season. The hobby stock pits have already been expanded to accommodate this year's entries. Again this season the gates will open at 6:30 p.m. with qualification runs at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8 p.m. The Waukegan Speedway is located 1 1/3 mile east of Route 41 on West Washington Street.

Antioch Track Boys In O.P. Relays Sat.

Prospects look good for Antioch High School's track team this Spring. Over 50 boys have gone out for track—11 seniors, 10 juniors, 12 sophomores and over 20 freshmen.

Coach Roger Andrews said, "We have five lettermen and both the Varsity and the Freshman-

Sophomore teams should finish first or second in the conference meet.

The quantity and the quality of the boys that have reported for work this year is most outstanding. Approximately eight boys will enter the Oak Park Indoor Relays on Saturday, March 30."

The official outdoor season will start with the first meet on Saturday, April 13 at 10 a.m. at Irving Crown High School.

ships in the colleges in the Big Ten conference ranges from $250,000 to $500,000 per year per school.

JANE PARKER WHITE BREAD ISN'T THE BEST SELLING IN THE U.S.A.

KNOW WHY?

Because it's not for sale in most stores.

Only A&P.

And so, it's only one of the ten best-selling breads in the U.S.A.

But what a "ten-bester" Jane Parker White Bread is!

It's the one that's dated on the wrapper so you can see it's fresh.

It's the one with quality that equals or surpasses the others in the top ten.

It's the one with flavor so good it's guaranteed to please your family—unconditionally guaranteed.

It's the one that, chances are, sells for a lot less than all the others in the top ten.

And remember, it's the one that's sold only at A&P.

When you think about it, shouldn't A&P be your store?
